Committee Reports:

Classes, Jim Casey

Couple of classes that we reinstated. Flag display case class starting this Thursday. Each Thursday in February there will be a class.

Ringbowl 2 class is also starting on Wednesday. Question about CNC classes being full. Gary Roberts said they are working with people to get people added. Laser is fully installed, class dates upcoming, not to be used until you have taken the class. Funds for the laser came from Terry Z fund.

Social: Ron Wilson

Sandwich day is on the 16th of January, we have 100 people signed up at this time. We will have a donation box if anyone is able to contribute. Please continue to sign up so we know we have enough food. Thanks to Jerry for all the work he did last year and all the great socials we had. Signup Genius is now available for signing up on socials to make it easier to. Anyone that is available to volunteer and help out the committee, see Ron.

Safety, Art Lincoln

Attempting to improve air quality. We've ordered a dust collection system, and making another home made one to see how it works.

President, Art Lincoln

Wrapping and working on changing the paper on our machines. We can not use planers or sanders on any bark edged wood. You are welcome to hand sand, just not use any of the machines. Please be careful about using CA glue accelerators or any other toxic chemicals around the shop. While they don't affect many of us, we have a lot of members with medical issues that are very sensitive to the chemicals that are released into the air. Please go outside to use those chemicals to help each other from having major medical issues.

We are changing the bulletin boards in the hallway. Club news is going to be the first board as you turn down the hallway from the water fountain. The RR&Ps are changing, we are hoping they vote down some of the changes that they have proposed, but be flexible as they change - it's at the Recreation Center level.

February the list for anyone that wants to run for the board will be posted. Please show up to the March meeting to vote for the new board members/officers.
